MONEY MARKET.

SUNDAY, June 18—P. M. Throughout the week just closed there has been a very depressed feeling in the stock market, and the market value of all classes of securities has been steadily depre clating. Dividend paying as well as non-dividend paying stocks have followed the same track, and those who have been compelled to realize, have had to submit to great sacrifices. The bears have had a fine harvest, but it i our opinion that they are now sowing a crop, in putting out short contracts, that will not prove so productive They are never satisfied with a decline in prices, no mat ter how great it may be, and frequently lose by a reac tion what a little caution would have secured. The demand for money for some days past has been very ac tive, and the market is decidedly stringent. The bank have been particularly cautious since the last week! statement made such a poor exhibit in the spec department; and we must look for a contraction is bank credit to some extent. The shipments of specie las week amounted to nearly a million and a half of dol lars, a sum we can ill afford to lose just at this time It is fortunate for holders of stocks that dividen day is not far off. The first of July generally disburses large amount of capital in the shape of dividends, and will enable many to carry stocks who otherwise would be forced to realize. It has been reported that a delivery had been made by the seller of the five thousand share of Nicaragua transit stock, sold in December last at 2: per cent, seller twelve months. This is incorrect; only a partial delivery has been made. The fortunate pur chaser has received but two thousand shares, leaving three thousand shares undelivered. We learn that the books of this company will be closed in a few days when a dividend will be declared, payable on or about the 5th of July. The declaration of a dividend will b accompanied with a report that will how the ability of the company to pay dividends hereafter regular sem annually. We are assured that if the company hereafte earns annually half as much money as it has during th past year, regular semi annual dividends of four per con

Albert H. Nicolay's semi weekly auction sale of stock and bonds will take place, as usual, on Monday, at half past 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange.

The outward movement of specie from this port las week was quite active, as will be seen by the annexes
